At TNU we are ensuring that education provided is contemporary to help the young workforce of our country remain relevant in our country remain relevant in future with their knowledge and skill.

“TNU will not just teach core subject knowledge; it will blend this with values necessary for balanced living.”

My forefathers came to Kolkata over a hundred years ago and today, I am proud to belong to this city and claim it as my native place. My uncle, Suresh Kumar Neotia and my father, Vinod Kumar Neotia were co-promoters of Gujarat Ambuja cements Ltd. We have also played a leading role in Eastern India in the fields of realty, hospitality and healthcare.

My foray in education has been a natural corollary in finding some of the best talent for the gamut of industries that already exist and what the country is gearing to look forward to in the near future. Most of the institutions of higher education still teach the subjects that were useful during the 60s or 70s, while at TNU we are ensuring that education provided is contemporary to help the young workforce of our country remain relevant in future with their knowledge and skill. With this in mind we have brought in Robotic Engineering, legal studies and many other lucrative courses for the Eastern India.

Our vision is to ensure that our alumnæ emerge as ethical, intellectual and professional stalwarts who will contribute not only to their jobs in their chosen fields, but also to our society and country. Leaders who will who will show the way to better world where, as Rabindranath Tagore has aptly said, “the mind is without fear and the head is held high.”

I invite you to experience TNU.

Mock moot court programmes - mock your way to the top of reality

Moot court is one of the best ways to expose our potential professionals to the legal environment, and we can’t let the young ones go about barefoot on the face of the world. That’s when the part of “lacing the boot” comes in and for that we have our regular weekly mock moot court sessions.

Moot court is an extracurricular activity at our university’s law school in which the students take part in stimulated court or arbitration proceedings, usually involving drafting memorials or memoranda and participating in oral arguments.

And specifically for mooting, we have a best in class miniature courtroom in the campus itself so as to give the students the exact feel of being a part of the world they are looking forward to step into. The courtroom may seem small but filled with exact same detailed layout of a real courtroom might as well convince your ward for getting admitted.

Welcoming the first batch

Being one of the prides of Bengal, it’s in our veins to award a warm welcome to any fresh faces we come across, and students are no exception. Moreover, what can be better than receiving brand new students of a brand new course. The day being 30th of July, 2018 was probably not the best experience of the students but has got to be a huge turnover in their life, a whole new package of a university experience. That’s why to slow the hearts down a bit, we organize the orientation program to familiarize them with their seniors, faculty, H.O.D’s so as to make them feel home, and trust us, nobody does it better. Organizing cultural programs, and of course making them feel that they can also get up on that stage one day whenever they are ready. Providing refreshments is also a great way to familiarize them with the taste of the whole new world they are going to step into. Well, talking about the first class, it was all about personal self soothing chats with the professors they are going to spend the rest of their coming years with, so as to give them the confidence to cooperate with their mentors for every moment they have to spend with them.

Any start of ours was never a prodigious one. We have started with a bunch of students, to be specific-seven in all. But we are really looking forward to expand it in the future and we are confident that we will succeed, because we do have the workforce that will do anything in its power to expand the Neotia family.

Well, the first orientation in the law department was a triumph for sure. So no more talking about ourselves, let’s look into the accomplishments by the students so far.
