- Mentors, administrators and faculty are crème de la crème of the industry.

You are choosing to join the next generation of Global Leaders!

Bachelor Hospitality and Hotel Administration

The Ambuja Neotia group being already a hospitality major, with its hotels, resorts and restaurants, it is but natural that the expertise gained over the years is well utilized, in hospitality education and training. SHCA offers BSc in Hospitality Administration with an option for earning Diplomas from the prestigious HTMI, Switzerland.

In keeping with the established high standards of the group, the facilities at SHCA can be compared with the best in the world. The food production lab, training restaurant, front office reception, housekeeping lab, model guest room, class rooms, and the central library, are all commissioned with state of the art equipment and provide maximum comfort to both learner and trainer. The team of faculty can be rated as one of the best in the country, with each one having quality experience in both industry and education.

Training & Placements at SHCA

We have strategic tie ups with leading hotel brands such as Novotel, The Park, Le Meridien, Hyatt Regency, Swissotel and many more. Our students endeavours have left a significant mark in few of these hotels during their internship.

Career Prospects

The Hospitality sector is a sunrise industry that has a large place to accommodate skillful job seekers. The advent of globalization, and an unprecedented boom in the travel and tourism have enthused all the related businesses to employ more and more hospitality students. Graduates of hospitality management are recognized for their versatile basket of skills rendering them highly employable.

Career opportunities are in abundance in luxury cruise liners, airline catering and cabin services, hospital administration and catering, event management, sales and business development, tourism management and hotels.

B.Sc in Hotel Administration & Culinary Art

Our course in B.Sc in Hotel Administration Culinary Art is carefully curated to contemporary requirements of the most demanding hospitality set ups and prepares students to excel within the kitchen as culinary professionals. TNU's degree aims at providing intense inputs in various aspects of Food Production and Food Production operation, fundamentals in Food and Beverage operation, management, production and service; food science etc.

Graduates also gain strong knowledge of business and its application within the hospitality industry. TNU students will be trained in well equipped laboratories such as Food production, Bakery and Confectionary, Cold Kitchen, Food and Beverage Service, supervised by experienced faculty members and trained technicians.

Career Prospects

Graduates of BSc Culinary Art already have a year's hands on industry experience by the time they are ready for campus interviews. It is expected that the experience would make them coveted and would definitely have preference over regular hospitality graduates in the Food Production department. One may commence their career at any designation based on the organisation. 'Trainee Chef de Partie' is the designation that is likely to be offered to deserving candidates.

It is expected that Culinary Arts graduates are likely to make their mark faster and ascend the career ladder quicker because of added skills and deeper understanding of the subject. With time, one may rise through ranks like Chef de Partie, Sous Chef and finally become an Executive Chef. Chefs are prized assets of any organisation and apart from regular recruiters, they are a prized pick for embassies, flight kitchens, MNCs, cruise lines, airlines and catering firms. Many enterprising chefs are proud owners of Michelin star restaurants.
